

Performance response to increasing spatial exclusion

Random is shown as a permissive reference; buffered spatial splits require minimum train-test graph distances of 2 or 5 edges. Shared y-axis is used across panels.